Rotary Club hears trio of candidates

BELLE GLADE—Candidates who qualified for the upcoming Belle Glade city election, had their chance to tell Rotary Club members, why they should be elected this coming Tuesday, September 10.

Three of the four candidates, city commissioner incumbents Claude Tindall and George Goforth, and Goforth's challenger, Wayne Mock, each had five minutes to address the Rotarians, with two minutes rebuttal time.

Tindall was the first to speak. He stands unopposed and will enter his fifth term as city commissioner.

"I have been opposed only once since I was elected," said Tindall. "It's through people's efforts that has kept me in there and I want to keep contributing to the city."

Tindall also said that he would like to continue serving the city in the same manner as in the past.

George Goforth will be entering his third term as city commissioner if elected.

"I've enjoyed serving on the commission and tried to do a good job," said Goforth. "I haven't always agreed with my cohorts on the commission but I always vote on my convictions and I don't apologize for them."

South Bay officials will review budget in workshop, more cuts being looked at SOUTH BAY—South Bay officials will be meeting Thursday, September 5, at 8 p.m. in the city's chamber office, to discuss millage and the tentative budget for 1986.

The new budget is up approximately $67,000 from last year, totaling $948,056.

Last week, officials met and discussed cutting expenses for legislative travel, raising the cost of mosquito control, and trash/garbage pickup.

A cut back in funds allowed for legislative travel caused disagreement between city officials.

Last year, a total of $10,000 was allotted for travel. This year, officials are looking at a suggested sum of $6,500 for travel expenses, allowing each commissioner $1,500 for legislative trips.

In disagreement with the suggested figure of $6,500 was South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony, who proposed $8,500 should be allowed.

"Past commissions have not been as active as we are now," Anthony said before agreeing to the $6,500. "It helps to get involved with meetings so South Bay can be exposed."

To date, South Bay officials have spent $8,200 on travel expenses and South Bay City Manager Lomax Harrelle argued that this coming year the city will be operating on a really tight budget.

"This is an extremely tight budget—more so than in the past 10 years—we're cutting everything to the bone," said Harrelle. "We can make line item changes, but there is nowhere left to cut."

Recovery program proposed

BELLE GLADE—A recovery program for alcohol and drug abusers is in the works for Glades General Hospital.

Glades General Hospital Administrator Pat Lennon said that the recovery program was first brought to his attention by Ivan Goldberg, John F. Kennedy Hospital's recovery program administrator in West Palm Beach.

"He said that there were around 50 patients from Belle Glade in JFK's recovery program," said Lennon.

According to Lennon, the Recovery Center works closely with Alcoholics Anonymous and Narcotics Anonymous, must read and write would send the hospital patients referrals.

The organizations would continue to be a support system following the recovery program.

Patients admitted in to the recovery program must be basically 18 years or older and must read and write the English language, added Lennon.

Patients need to have some knowledge of the English language, since a part of the recovery program requires them to

Attempted murder

BELLE GLADE—Police arrested Earl Henderson, 44, of 541 SW B Place, on attempted first degree murder charges.

According to police report, on Friday, August 29, police received a complaint of a shooting that just occurred at the 200 block of SW 6th Str.

Upon arrival, police observed Lee Scott, 35, 210 SW 6th Str, bleeding heavily from his right arm.

Witnesses told police that Scott and Henderson had been having arguments about a third party for weeks. As Henderson left his apartment building, Scott began calling out obscenities to him. Henderson walked over to his truck and pulled out a loaded .357 magnum handgun and shot Scott, who had been taunting him.

Scott was hospitalized at Glades General Hospital and listed in stable condition. Henderson turned himself in to Belle Glade Police immediately after the shooting where he was placed under $10,000 bond.

Under the Municipal Health Trust, out of Orlando, the city's insurance, South Bay is presently paying 100 percent of employee premiums, including employee dependents.

Taylor proposed the city switch to New York Life Insurance, or Dunn and Bradstreet Insurance. He said he had gone through and picked out the highlights of these policies and the cities current policy.

He noted that the city pays 100 percent of the employee's first $5,000 hospital fee.

The other policies proposed an 80 percent payment of the first $5,000 hospital fee, a cost cutter which could eventually save the city $25,000 a year.

After stating some other proposals South Bay Mayor Clarence Anthony suggested that City Manager Lomax Harrelle get with Taylor to compare insurances before the new 1986 city budget was adopted.

In other business, the commission approved to pay Barker, Osha, and Anderson, Inc. $4017.15 for the engineering services and design of SW 6th Ave. and SW 1st Ave.

City Attorney Thomas Montgomery a monthly retainer fee of $355.

Anthony brought up a suggestion to the commission of having local residents setting up a mock commission meeting for a night.

He said the event would be sponsored by YAC (Youth Advisory Council) who would appoint people to act in each respective commissioners place.

"It may give us insight as community leaders," said Anthony, adding that it would also encourage citizens to realize what commissioners have to go through. "People have some good answers."

Anthony also asked Commissioner Dorothy Davis about the beautification committee she is involved in.

Davis said that the committee needed to get together with Harrelle in order to discuss where to plant shrubbery and flowers in the city.

Anthony voiced his approval regarding the committee's ideas.

"It's good to clean up South Bay," he said. "We should have pride for our city."

Goforth said that the city has accomplished a good bit in the past few years.

"We've just been touching the tip of the iceberg," Goforth said. "A big step has been in city cleanup."

Goforth commented on the fact that the regained ownership of the Belle Glade Marina will help the city. He also said that he will be on guard against higher taxes and to review each tax program.

"I've really enjoyed serving. It's a great honor and I've tried to live up to that trust," said Goforth. "I promise to still live up to your trust to the best of my ability and I'm open to comments and suggestions."

Wayne Mock, Goforth's challenger, said he would like to serve the city of Belle Glade.

At the meeting, Mock stated that he had different views than Goforth and that he disagreed with some of his convictions.

Mock said that he is interested on doing something about property taxes and to try to help "clean up" the south west section of town. The candidates were asked several questions by audience members about property taxes on local real estates being extremely high, higher than on the coast.

Goforth answered by saying that Glades area high property value has affected the mileage rate west of 20 mile bend.

"It's a concern with the commission every year," said Goforth. "I feel that the Marina will be a big boost in holding down property tax."

Registered voters can cast their ballots in the city election, held on Tuesday, September 10, from 7 a.m.-7 p.m. at the Belle Glade City Hall.

A $2 per month mosquito control fee, a $2 fee for trash pickup (up $1 from last year) and an $8.50 fee for garbage pickup (as compared with last year's fee of $7.50) will have an impact on South Bay resident's water bill.

"We're losing a bundle on our trash," Harrelle said. He said the city loses a total of $3,900 per year on trash dumping, and that the increase was necessary to cover the dumping fees placed on South Bay by the County Solid Waste Department.

He pointed out that the Solid Waste Department had raised their dumping costs from $17 to $21.50 per ton.

Another problem Harrelle pointed out, was the poor quality of the county's mosquito control program. He told officials that he had spoken to Allied Helicopters in South Bay, who were willing to work with the city on mosquito control.

"It would cost $800 each time we sprayed and $250 for helicopter costs," Harrelle said.

Although feedback from residents has primarily been in favor of the mosquito control program, officials voiced concern over the sudden increase residents would discover in their water bill.

"As soon as the first water bill comes out, there are going to be problems," said Commissioner Don Tanner.

"The community doesn't want to see all these increases in one year," said Anthony.

Commissioners suggested keeping the $8.50 for trash pickup, but lowering the mosquito control fee to $1 per month.

Further discussion on the new budget will resume on Thursday.

Man charged with ag battery

BELLE GLADE—A 24 year old Belle Glade man was arrested Saturday on charges of aggravated battery, aggravated assault, and false imprisonment said Detective Rick Radford of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department.

Radford said Herminio Pablo Hernandez, 928 4th street, was arrested for his connection in an incident which took place approximately three miles south of SR 80 on Huk Spooner Road in Belle Glade, involving her and his girlfriend Wanda Mackey, also of Belle Glade. Radford said Hernandez apparently drove Mackey to a secluded agricultural area, stopped his vehicle and accused her of seeing another man.

He allegedly took a tire iron from the trunk of his car and told Mackey he was going to kill her.

He then supposedly held the weapon over the woman, causing her to faint. When she came to, he was dragging her by the hair on her head toward a drainage canal, said Radford.

According to sheriff reports the girl made the statement her boyfriend knew she couldn't swim, and that she is afraid of the water.

When the two reached the edge of the canal he allegedly told her again he was going to kill her, and she then began to struggle. The girl managed to free herself, and flee toward the car.

Hernandez, a professional boxer, reportedly caught her before she made it to the awaiting vehicle, and began punching her with his fist.

Mackey freed herself a second time, but Hernandez caught up with her and apparently continued his assault.

Radford said the woman began to plead for her life, and Hernandez forced her to tell him when she was meeting the other man.

She confessed to plans of meeting the man at her home later that day. Hernandez put the woman in the car, and left for her residence.

On the way, he stopped at his home and picked up a baseball bat, then continued to their destination.

Upon arrival at her home she escaped from the man and called Belle Glade Police, who in turn notified the sheriff's office.

Radford said Hernandez was arrested later that day by Deputy Danny O'Neal.

The detective said Mackey was taken to Glades General Hospital for treatment of black eyes, bruises to the left side of her face, fractured ribs, bruises to her throat, arms, and neck, and lacerations of her lips.

Radford said the man was placed in the Palm Beach County Jail in lieu of $15,000 bond.

Two arrested for armed robbery

BELLE GLADE—Two Belle Glade men were arrested for armed robbery Thursday, August 28.

According to police report, Joe Nathan Griffin, 23, and Harry Harold Brockman, 18, held up Nana's Service Station, located at 300 SW Ave E, and took $100 from attendant Aurelio Alvarez, 62.

The suspects apparently fled on foot. A physical and clothing description of the two were given to police.

Detective Albert

Dowdell found the two men in the Little Harlem Bar, 517 SW Avenue B Place.

Dowdell noticed that one of the suspects was sweating profusely and upon looking closely, found a .38 caliber in the man's right front pocket.

After removing the weapon, the man bolted from the bar, but was recaptured by under, who acted as Dowdell's backup.

Griffin and Brockman were placed under a $15,000 and $10,000 bond, respectively.

Griffin was additionally charged with carrying a concealed firearm and person engaged in criminal offenses having weapons.

Property recovered

BELLE GLADE—As a result of an ongoing investigation in reference box, and at least two stolen firearms have been recovered.

Total value of the recovered property is estimated at approximately $2,000.

The investigation is continuing and more arrests are expected.

During the investigation a VCR, a television do workbook activity and listen to support program tapes.

Lennon said he hopes the project will be getting underway very quickly and that the legal information is being looked at by the hospital's attorneys.

The proposed plan for the program will be centered on the hospital's third floor, said Lennon.

Four semi-private rooms, containing eight beds are currently being used for the hospital's VSP (Very Special Person) project.

"It may take $60,000 in renovation to the eight bed units," said Lennon. "Offices for the program's psychologist and office manager will be added."

If the program is OK'd, the Center for Recovery at JFK Hospital will send management to run the center at GGH.

Taking it from the top

His formula for prayer

In the Sermon on the Mount Jesus tells his disciples how not to pray. He says, "Don't make a show of it or spin flowery phrases."

Begin on the basis that our Heavenly Father knows what we want. Prayer is being made to an all-knowing God who is everywhere present and all powerful.

There is no reason to pray to a God who isn't greater than we are. So our start is to accept the fact that our Heavenly Father can answer prayer.

Jesus then says, "Pray then like this." We are given a formula for prayer. Sometimes we pray and act like this is the prayer but it is only the guideline for divine human communication. The prayer begins "Our Father who art in Heaven." We are reminded right off that God is not a monopoly but we share Him with all other believers.

Calling God "Father" puts us in an intimate relationship of a child to a loving father. We are able to bring our problems to Him without hesitation. "In heaven," sets the Father in His divine nature.

"Hallowed be Thy name." Our Heavenly Father is to be worshipped. His name God, almighty God, and Lord God is equal to what He is. Therefore we hold His name holy and we give reverence to it, and we acknowledge Him as the true God.

Dr. David T. Evans
Everglades
Presbyterian Church

"Thy Kingdom Come." Jesus here sets the goal of the prayer. After we have given God his due honor, we then pray that His Kingdom come. This is the first order of business for the believer to pray for and work toward.

"Thy will be done." This petition is a pledge that God's purpose will be sought by us in all things and even when it runs contrary to our plans or goals we can say with Jesus "Never the less, not my will, but thine be done."

When we say God's will be done we are saying this is the test by which we will live. All our desires, ambitions, and petitions then will be guided by these words.

After our reverence to God, His name, and praying for His Kingdom, and subjecting our will to His, then we think of ourselves. This is our clue to life—think of God first, then self, and we then are in the right position to do so.

"Give us this day our daily bread." This is not a petition for God to drop a loaf of bread in our laps but for the ability, opportunity, and health to work to provide for ourselves, then the petition is for bread directly.

Our Heavenly Father, who made this material world, feels that He wants to take care of our physical needs. He gave food and water to His children in the wilderness.

"Forgive us our debts." The word debt means the penalty of one's sins. Therefore to forgive them. We pray to God to forgive us our failures, our shortcomings, and our sins.

Our forgiveness is conditioned on our taking seriously forgiveness by forgiving those who have wronged against us. We must cultivate the attitude of forgiveness if we are to appreciate what God has done for us.

Our forgiveness is not to act as if the sin had never been committed, but with the understanding an attempt is made to seek reconciliation and act with good will toward the offender.

"And lead us not into temptation." This is one of the hard phrases of the prayer. Dr. C.C. Torrey suggests it may be translated "And let us not yield to temptation." Temptation also carries the meaning of testing or trial.

We are to offer this petition realizing that we need God's help in the time of temptation, testing, and trial. Also we know that God uses trials, etc., to strengthen us.

"But deliver us from evil" should be translated "the evil one." In these modern times there has been a tendency to de-personalize evil but Satan and the Devil were very real to the Jews. Christ the personification of good comes to do battle with evil in person.

"For thine is the Kingdom, and the power, and the glory, forever, Amen." This phrase is left out of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible because it is not found in the older manuscripts. Someone added this phrase and it makes a proper and beautiful ending to the Lord's Prayer.

Remember, be straightforward, quiet, and brief in your secret prayer to the Heavenly Father, who is the sovereign of the world and of your life. The Lord's Prayer is your guide but not an end in itself.

HITS & MISSES

Bill Doughty

Oh, what a feeling!

Well, after years of bopping around in automobiles that at best could be considered "chunkers," after years of worrying whether or not I would be able to coax a few more miles out of a travel-weary car, after years of not seeing an odometer with less than 40,000 miles on it, I've finally broken down and purchased a brand new model.

It's true. Nothing beats the smell of the inside of a new car. There's just something about it that fills one with a great feeling of satisfaction and pride. After shelling out that kind of money, you better get some kind of satisfaction.

Money and I have never parted company very easily. My father attributes that trait to a heavy dose of Scotch blood coursing through the family's veins. But then neither I nor my family have ever had an abundance of the green stuff, so prudence and thrift have always been watchwords.

My 1976 Mercury Montego, complete with 83,000 miles on it, has been on the brink of destruction for some time now. The mere fact it made the trip down from Pennsylvania was in itself a blessing.

I bought it four years ago for $2200 and I consider that I've gotten my money's worth, even though I've probably put a couple thousand more into it over the years.

I've known for some time that I had to get another mode of transportation but was unsure of whether I wanted to go deep enough in debt to buy a brand new one.

However, used cars ain't what they used to be. In the past, you might be lucky enough to find a dependable car that had relatively low mileage and only a few years old. Then days are gone folks.

Most of the used cars I ran across in my travels looked about like what I was driving. The ones that were recent models would have anywhere between 50,000 and 80,000 miles on them. And these would be 1983 and 84 models! It became clear that it was much more advisable to spend the extra money and buy something right off the assembly line. You still might get a lemon, but at least you get a warranty with it.

I began to cast about, looking for an appealing deal. My head turned whenever I passed an auto dealership. I scanned each Sunday to see what was available. But I never got the guts to go ahead and buy.

Now even the most uninformed consumer realizes that the best time to buy a car is right before the next year's models are delivered, so the time was right.

I don't know anyone that likes to deal with car salesmen. While I'm sure most of them are fine, respectable, honest people, their reputation precedes them. In fact, in surveys done on which professions command the most respect from the average Joe, the two lowest ranking jobs were advertising salespeople and those who sell cars (followed by, gulp, newspaper reporters).

When I began serious searching on the coast, my fears were confirmed. Some of these guys can look you square in the eyes and tell you the sun is shining in the middle of the night. Most seemed primarily concerned with getting the biggest commission possible. I could not reach a satisfactory deal.

Returning home, I explored the local dealers and found one gentleman particularly cooperative. He showed what he had, worked with me on the financing and said this was what he could offer. No pressure, no hype, no dickering. Bottom line.

The surprising thing is, I probably spent more money than I would have liked, but then again, I got a better deal than just about anywhere else I could have gone.

So now I've signed the papers and my bank owns a new car that they let me drive. Providing I pay them each month.

It is a beauty. The color is described as "ice cream." It comes with AM-FM stereo cassette, air conditioning, cruise control, bucket seats, just about the entire works. I won't mention the model. Let's just say Lee Iacocca is a little more wealthy this morning.

Now I find myself like any new car owner, running about wiping off any little smear, becoming nervous when little children ride by on bikes, flinching when an oncoming vehicle creeps too close. But it's worth it!

It's history now... A look back

Graduation took its toll on the Gators, but Walker is very optimistic about the 1985 Gators.

"We've got a bunch of kids that are good football players. We aren't as big, but we're a heck of a lot quicker," said Walker.

Once again defense will be the Gators' strong point. Anchoring the defensive unit for the Gators will be returning starters Ernie Soles, 6-3, 275, and linebacker Jorge Suarez. Although he didn't start last year, Walker said Jason Mann is practically the same as a returning starter, and will play a major part in the defensive secondary.

Offensively the Gators will run a lot of option plays, and be a little more balanced in their attack, said Walker.

"Basically we'll stick to our same offensive philosophy, except we'll run more quick hitting stuff, and utilize finesse rather than power as we have in the last five years," he said.

The head mentor pointed out that quarterback John Hundley will be a big plus for his team.

"John brings in a lot of experience, and he had a good summer in the weight room, which put more zip on his passes. All we have to do now to improve our passing game is wait for our receivers to catch up with our quarterback," he said.

Suarez is expected to add the running punch for the Gators.

Walker said the tailback will do the same job as Philip Echols, but with a different style of running.

"Jorge put on 20 pounds over the summer so his power will be surprising," said Walker.

Walker said he has 28 players on his varsity squad, and feels his team will be able to out-quick many of their opponents.

When asked what teams are going to be the toughest on this team, Walker pointed out Benjamin and King's Academy.

Said Walker, "Some of the newspapers are picking St. John Neumann to win the thing, but I think their making a mistake if they count us out."

GCCHS conducts self-study

Glades Central Community High School will be conducting its Five Year Interim Self-study this 1985-86 school year. All administrative staff and faculty will be involved studying subject areas and general service areas such as the educational program and student activities.

Dr. Charles Council from Florida Atlantic University is the consultant for the project. Rosemary Buchanan serves as the steering committee chair, aided by James Allen and Robert Bennett. Mrs. Buchanan said, "We have all of our committees formed and working. I expect the study to go smoothly and be completed by February 15."

The study is done for the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS) for accreditation purposes. In a Five Year Interim Study the school responds to the recommendations for improvement made by the Ten Year Visiting Committee, in GCCHS's case, the 1980-81 visit. Local post attends Vietnam veteran ceremonies

BELLE GLADE Members of the American Legion, Post 20, traveled to West Palm Beach last week to participate in a public awareness program for Vietnam Veterans.

Six local Post members were the Honor Guard for a period of time during Memorial Services at the Cross County Mall, August 26. Post Commander

Fred Youchuck said it was a deep honor for the local post to participate in the ceremonies.

"The Vietnam boys are not forgotten in our eyes," Youchuck said. "We encourage them to join our Post and participate in our local activities," he added.

Those attending from the local post included Melvin Cole, Chairman of the Color Guard, Jimmy Nelson, Bernie Scheling, Pete Raymond and Stu Boehoe. The Coalition is undertaking a drive to travel with an architect-tural rendering of the Vietnam Memorial in each County Seat in the State of Florida. It began in Key West in August and is scheduled to culminate on Veteran's Day, November 11 in the state capital of Tallahassee.

Fall program to begin for Everglades Presbyterian

BELLE GLADE Everglades Presbyterian Church will begin its Fall Program Sunday, September 8, according to Dr. David T. Evans, pastor.

Sunday School will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the Morning Worship Service will be at 11 a.m.

In recognition of the beginning of Christian Education, Dr. Evans will preach on the subject, "Jesus as Student and Teacher" based on Matthew 7:24-29.

"September 8 will be an important day for our church education program," said Ulauna Whitlock, Sunday School Superintendent.

Kindergarten through adults will begin at 9:30 a.m. Our kindergarten, primary and junior classes will enjoy an exciting, new music session before their Bible lessons. Arlene Lowery will be leading this activity," continued Mrs. Whitlock.

Becky Long, Jeanne Woodard and Laona Street will be teaching the kindergarten, primary and junior classes respectively.

"The senior high class will have plenty of opportunity for special projects, fun and games, and Bible study led by Bess McIlwain. The adult Bible study will begin their year with a study of I John, using Warren Wiersbe's, "Be Real," Mrs. Whitlock reports.

"We never give growing and our continued Christian growth is important to us as individuals as well as to our fellow Christians," Whitlock concluded.

Tennessee's Fish Dip

Tennessee, who is a fishing guide for J-Mark fishcamp in Belle Glade, says this fish dip, which was given to him by a friend is his favorite recipe. Tennessee says that this fish dip can be made from several varieties of fish such as bass, blue gill, or specks. He personally prefers specks.

Ingredients

6-10 fillets of specks, depending on the size
2 tablespoons Everglades Seasoning
1/2 tablespoon garlic powder
1/3 cup finely diced bell peppers
1/3 cup finely diced onions

1/2 cup sweet relish
3 tablespoons sweet relish juice
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste.

In a large pot of water, put in Everglades Seasoning, garlic powder, and fillet of fish. Boil until fish starts to flake. Drain fish well and place in a large bowl. Break fish apart using a fork and add remaining ingredients. Mix well and season to taste.

Tennessee says "Now you're ready to sit back in your favorite chair with a plate full of crackers and fish dip and eat your heart out!"

Stores celebrate American Heart's Food Festival

Publix, Pantry Pride, Sun Stores and Winn Dixie will join with more than 8,000 supermarkets throughout the United States in celebration of the American Heart Association's (AHA) first annual national community nutrition event — American Heart's Food Festival.

The Food Festival is scheduled for today through September 14, and it is designed to bring to the attention of the American public an awareness of the AHA's lifesaving messages about nutrition and health. AHA's information on "heart-healthy eating" will be available at some of the participating supermarkets.

"The grocery store is an excellent place for us to reach people, since it's obviously a primary place where the public makes decisions on food selection," said James E. Vance, M.D., chairman of AHA's Nutrition Committee. "Some of the things we hope to educate people about during the week-long event includes the importance of reading nutrition labels on packaged foods (and how to interpret the information); how to choose lean cuts of meat; and which dairy products are preferable according to the AHA."

"American Heart has recommended a low saturated fat, low-cholesterol diet for everyone since 1961," Dr. Vance explained. "AHA recommends limiting cholesterol intake to no more than 300 milligrams per day."

According to Dr. Vance, not all cholesterol in the blood comes from the foods we eat. The body produces about 1,000 milligrams of cholesterol each day, and this cholesterol is needed to produce certain hormones and to construct cells. The body is also able to filter out some of the cholesterol in the blood and eliminate it.

Cholesterol is a soft fat-like substance found among the fats in the bloodstream called lipids. "A high level of lipids in the blood is what is known as 'hyperlipidemia,' and it is a major risk factor for heart disease," said Dr. Vance.

According to the American Heart Association, more than 50 percent of middle-aged Americans have cholesterol levels above 200 milligrams per deciliter of blood. At this level, the risk of heart disease begins to rise sharply. Why is this so?

Dr. Vance explains, "Cholesterol and other lipids build up in the inner lining of blood vessels like rust in water pipes. Over time those vessels can become completely blocked. This narrowing of blood vessels, atherosclerosis, keeps oxygen-carrying blood from getting to the heart. The result can be severe chest pain and eventually heart attack."

"By making prudent choices in the food we eat, blood cholesterol levels can usually be controlled in otherwise healthy people."

The AHA recommends that the intake of high-fat meats, whole dairy products, egg yolks and other foods high in saturated fats and cholesterol be limited. More poultry, fish and lean meat, fresh fruits and vegetables, grains and cereals, and low-fat dairy products should be substituted in the food plan instead.

"The key word to keep in mind when incorporating AHA's recommendations in your daily food plan is 'prudence,'" says Dr. Vance. He explains that AHA guidelines call for inclusion of all of the major food groups — meats, fish and poultry; fruits and vegetables; grains and cereals; dairy products; and fats and oils. "We do not suggest that any one food be eliminated entirely or that any one food be used almost exclusively. In addition to a wide variety of foods, AHA nutrition guidelines also recommend that ideal weight be maintained; fats be limited to not more than 30 percent of the total daily calories; adequate starch and fiber foods be included in the diet; refined sugar and sodium be limited; and if alcohol is part of the diet, it be used in moderation."

During the Food Festival, the AHA hopes to bring the residents of Palm Beach and Martin Counties educational information they will be able to use to enhance their own health and that of their families.

For additional information about nutrition call 655-8155, 278-7222 (South County) or 546-3555 (Martin County).

Chocolate Crumb Ice Cream Pie

Here's a "chillingly" delicious dessert that combines two all-time favorites—chocolate and ice cream.

Chocolate Crumb Ice Cream Pie brings new taste to the traditional graham cracker crust with the addition of Nestle Little Bits semi-sweet chocolate. And the chocolate mixture serves a dual purpose—first as the crust and also as a topping to sprinkle over your favorite ice-cream filling.

Here is the recipe as developed in the Nestle Kitchen.

Ingredients

1-1/2 cup graham cracker crumbs
1/3 cup butter, melted
1/4 cup sugar
3/4 cup Nestle Little Bits semi-sweet chocolate.

Press 2 cups crumb mixture evenly on bottom and sides of 9 inch pie pan. Chill until firm (about 30 minutes.) Fill with ice cream. Top with remaining 1 cup crumb mixture; freeze until firm. Make an 8-inch pie.

Government grading helps make for better, more economical shopping

You can shop more economically for your family—and yourself, too—if you know the differences among government food grades.

Knowing the differences can mean better eating, too. Depending on how you plan to use a product, you buy, a lower grade may not only meet your needs, but be cheaper as well.

Take beef, for instance. USDA Prime, the top USDA grade, is the ultimate in tenderness, juiciness and flavor.

While Prime is best for roasting or broiling, it's likely to cost more than the second grade, USDA Choice, which has slightly less marbling. Marbling is the flecks of fat within the lean that make meat tender and juicy.

Some stores sell beef that would qualify for other U.S. grades, such as U.S. Good, under a house brand name rather than under the USDA grade mark—this beef will have less fat, be lower in calories and will likely cost less than Prime or Choice. It could meet your needs well, particularly if you use slow, moist cooking to make it tender.

In establishing grades for food products like meat, poultry, eggs, fruits, vegetables and dairy products, USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service considers the values that wholesale buyers and sellers place on the products.

Generally, products with characteristics of the higher grades are more marketable and bring a better price for the producer.

Wholesale buyers and sellers, specify certain grades in their contracts, often made by telephone over long distances. Buyers for retail food stores commonly use the grades when they place food orders, as do buyers for feeding establishments like hospitals, schools and airlines.

USDA and their counterparts in cooperating state agencies provide official grading service to packers and processors who request it, and plants pay a fee for the grader's time and expenses.

Do the grades that the official graders assign in food plants carry over to the retail store?

Labeling of the grade on a product isn't retail store.

Labeling of the grade on a product isn't required by federal law, even if a food has been officially graded, but a number of food manufacturers and distributors choose to put the official grade on their products, as do many retailers.

As a food shopper, you're most likely to see the USDA grade on beef, veal, lamb, broilers, turkeys, eggs, and butter. You also may see it on some cheese, instant nonfat dry milk preservatives, frozen concentrated orange juice and canned and frozen fruits and vegetables.

Some fresh produce also is grade labeled, particularly potatoes and apples.

Food shoppers should be familiar with these grades:

- *Butter—USDA Grade AA and A. Grade AA has a delicate, sweet flavor.

The next grade, Grade A, is almost as good—having a pleasing flavor—and usually sells for less.

- *Cheese—Grades AA and A also apply, but only a few stores carry graded cheese.
- *Dry milk—The U.S. Extra Grade name or shield may be used on instant nonfat dry milk, meaning the product has a sweet and pleasing flavor and that it dissolves immediately when mixed with water.
- *Eggs—U.S. Grade A eggs are almost as good, and this is the grade you'll see most often. Grade A eggs are almost as good, and this is the grade you'll see most often. Grade AA and A eggs are especially attractive when you're trying them "sunny-side up," while the lower U.S. Grade B eggs, if available, are good for scrambling and baking, where appearance isn't so important. Egg sizes, incidentally, vary nothing to do with grades, but officially graded eggs are also checked for size.
- *Poultry—U.S. Grade A poultry, the top quality, is fully fleshed and meaty and has a better appearance than Grades B or C. The lower grades are rarely sold in the retail market as whole.
- *Processed fruits, vegetables—Qualities are U.S. Grade A, B, and C. Only a few packers put the grades on their retail containers of canned, frozen and dried products even though many processing plants use the grades and USDA grading services for quality control purposes. Most processed fruits and vegetables that are graded are at least Grade B quality, and that's quite good. The difference between A and B: A has a better appearance and texture than B, so U.S. Grade A products can be used in special meals or dishes for which looks and texture are important. Grade C products are fairly good quality, and are just as wholesome and nutritious as the higher grades, and they sell for less. Grades B and C are generally sold as a second store brand label or generic (no brand) product.
- *Fresh fruits and vegetables—The typical range of grades is U.S. Fancy, U.S. No. 1 and U.S. No. 2. U.S. No. 1 is the chief trading grade for most of these products, while U.S. Fancy is a premium quality. Grades generally are based on the product's color, shape, maturity and freedom from defects like cuts from harvesting equipment.
- The grades are seen mainly on potatoes and apples at retail, though most wholesale trading of fruits and vegetables is done on the basis of U.S. grades.
- *Meat—The U.S. Choice mark stamped on beef, lamb, veal or calf is the grade you're most likely to see, while Prime, the highest quality, is less common and usually more expensive. Meat is rarely seen with the U.S. Good or lower grade brands although many retailers sell it under a store brand label. Most veal doesn't have enough marbling to be graded, but the higher grades can be roasted. Lower grades of veal and other meat should be cooked with moist heat to insure juiciness and good flavor.

Olive oil offers alternative in frying

If, like most of us, your family loves fried foods but you've been saying no to "heavy, rich, greasy, fattening" — here's terrific news: you can pan-fry all their favorite things — chicken, shrimp, vegetables, potatoes, meatless donuts. French toast, eggs and more — in pure Italian olive oil (that's right, olive oil, without the guils).

Since, unlike other shortenings, olive oil has a very low absorbency ratio — doesn't "soak" into foods — most of the comes back after cooking. This means that the insides will be moist, coatings crisp rather than greasy. Of course it contains no cholesterol — not a little bit — and it's high in monounsaturates which many leading nutritionists now believe are superior to polysaturates alone for general health. But it's important to use a premium quality olive oil.

An added money saving tip: in many cases you can reuse the oil.
